

TE 18.4.5 pane activation grace period (revised)

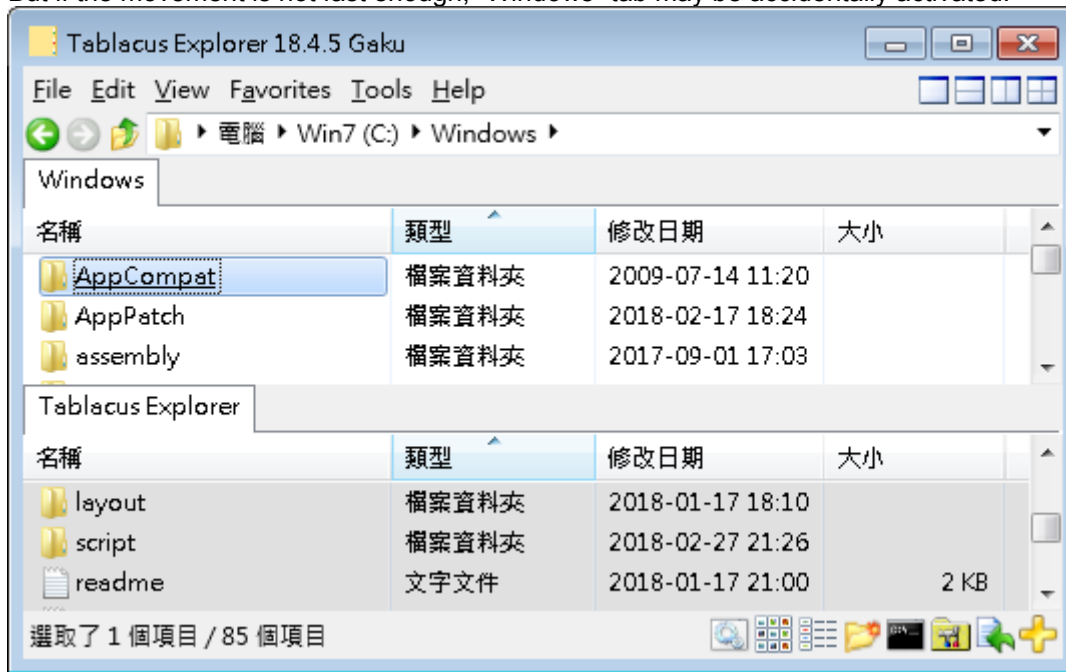

Mouse pointer is in the “Tablacus Explorer” tab, which is in the active pane.

Move the mouse pointer to the tool bar (fly over the item names in “Windows” tab).

But if the movement is not fast enough, “Windows” tab may be accidentally activated.

Therefore a grace period should be customizable somewhere in “Tools > Options”, so that each user can adjust it to balance between the waiting time to activate a pane and the speed to fly over a pane. Suggested default will be around 100 to 200 milliseconds.
